

Heat Advisory

CAMBRIAN SCHOOL DISTRICT, August 15, 2019

Dear Parents and Guardians,

The weather forecast for tomorrow is predicting the temperature to be in the high 90s. Please be sure to send your child with a water bottle. Each campus in our District is equipped with a Hydration Station so your child can refill the bottle throughout the day. Also, classrooms are air conditioned. In order to 'beat the heat', District staff will make sure children will have shade and indoor options during recess, as well as indoor Physical Education classes.

Tomorrow has been designated as a 'Spare the Air' day in the San Francisco Bay Area. From April to October, warmer temperatures and longer days can cause ozone to build up to unhealthy levels. When this takes place, the Air District will issue a Spare the Air Alert.

We will alert the Cambrian community on Spare the Air Days, and staff may limit outdoor activity for students.
